

Contents

The Science of Psychology 1

The Language of Psychology	2
Problem Finding in Psychology	3
LANDMARK: Observing External Events	4
The Scientific Method	6
LANDMARK: Piaget, A Natural Observer	14
LANDMARK: Sigmund Freud and Clinical Observation	16
Dimensions of Psychology	17
The Relation of Psychology to Other Sciences	19
Historical Origins of Psychology	20
Summary 26 / Suggested Readings	27

Biological Mechanisms in Behavior 29

Response System	30
The Nervous System	34
The Central Nervous System	37
LANDMARK: The Evolution of the Brain	40
LANDMARK: Disconnecting the Hemispheres	42
LANDMARK: Mapping the Human Brain	46
The Peripheral Nervous System	50
The Reflex	52
Methods of Studying the Brain and Nervous System	55
Summary 57 / Suggested Readings	59

3 The Development of the Individual 61

Heredity and Environment	62
LANDMARK: A Founder of Child Psychology	68
Prenatal Development	68
Maturation and Behavior	72
LANDMARK: Imprinting	74
Sensory Development	75
Motor Development	75
Speech Development	77
Stage Theories of Development	80
The Development of Social Behavior	85
LANDMARK: Attachment	88
Adolescence	92
Adulthood	93
The Aging Process	95
Summary 96 / Suggested Readings	97

4 Sensation 99

The Characteristics of Sensation	100
LANDMARK: Sensory Measurement and the Birth of Psychophysics	102
Light Sensation: Vision	105
LANDMARK: The Measurement of Light and Visual Thresholds	107
LANDMARK: Visual Analysis in the Brain	113
Sound Sensation: Hearing	117
Chemical Sensation: Smell and Taste	122
Skin and Body Sensations	123
Summary 126 / Suggested Readings	127

5 Perception 129

Attention	130
Perceptual Organization	132
LANDMARK: The Emergence of Gestalt Psychology	133

Context	137
Perceptual Constancy	139
Illusions	142
The Visual Perception of Depth	143
Auditory Perception of Distance and Direction	145
The Perception of Motion	147
The Effects of Learning and Development on Perception	148
LANDMARK: An Upside-Down World	151
The Effects of Motivation on Perception	152
Extrasensory Perception	153
Summary	153 / Suggested Readings 155

6

Learning Processes 157

Classical Conditioning	158
LANDMARK: The Shaping of Behaviorism	164
Operant Conditioning	166
LANDMARK: The Operant Conditioning of Involuntary Responses	180
The Cognitive Approach to Learning	182
LANDMARK: An Alternative to Behaviorism	183
Comparing the S-R and Cognitive Approaches	185
Summary	186 / Suggested Readings 187

7

Memory 189

Retention	190
LANDMARK: Ebbinghaus, A Name to Remember	193
Forgetting	194
LANDMARK: Interfering Associations	197
The Processes of Memory Storage	200
LANDMARK: "The Magical Number Seven"	204
Models of Memory	206
The Physiology of Memory	208
Summary	210 / Suggested Readings 211

Applying Learning and Perception 213

- The Transfer of Learning 214
- Efficient Learning 216
 - LANDMARK: The Meaning of Meaningfulness 218
- Perceiving Effectively 221
- Nine Principles 224
 - LANDMARK: Teaching Machines 226
- Programmed Instruction 227
- Summary 230 / Suggested Readings 231

Language and Thought 233

- The Functions of Language 234
 - LANDMARK: Talking with Chimpanzees 234
- The Structure of Language 236
- The Development and Acquisition of Language 238
 - LANDMARK: Verbal Behavior 240
 - LANDMARK: Generating a Generative Grammar 242
- Thinking 246
- Problem Solving 249
- Creative Thinking 254
- Summary 255 / Suggested Readings 257

Consciousness 259

- States of Consciousness 261
 - LANDMARK: The Function of Consciousness 261
 - LANDMARK: Eye Movements and Dreaming 264
- Altered States of Consciousness 270
- Summary 282 / Suggested Readings 283

Motivation and Emotion 285

- Motivation 286
- Fundamental Concepts in Motivation 286

The Concept of Drive	286
LANDMARK: Drive and Drive Reduction	287
Drives Arising from Internal Imbalance	287
LANDMARK: Homeostasis	288
Drives Toward External Stimulation	296
Acquired Drives	299
Motivation and Learning	302
Four Views of Motivation	303
Arousal	305
Emotion	307
Characteristics of Emotion	308
Types of Emotion	310
Development of Emotions	310
Bodily Responses in Emotion	314
LANDMARK: A Neural Circuit for Emotion	314
Theories of Emotion	318
The Language of Emotional Expression	320
Summary	321
/ Suggested Readings	322

12

Personality 325

Typing the Individual	326
The Classification of Traits	329
LANDMARK: Traits as Directors of Personality	331
The Development of Personality	333
Personality Theories	338
LANDMARK: Personality and Self-Actualization	346
LANDMARK: Psychoanalysis and Learning Theory	348
Summary	352
/ Suggested Readings	353

13

Intelligence and Psychological Testing 355

Evaluating Testing Devices	356
The Use of Tests	359
The Measurement of Intelligence	359
LANDMARK: The Beginning of Systematic Intelligence Testing	360

Intelligence and Heredity	366
Psychometric Approaches to the Study of Intelligence	368
LANDMARK: General and Specific Intelligence	369
Developmental Changes in Intelligence	373
The Exceptional Child	374
Achievement and Aptitude Testing	376
The Measurement of Personality	377
A Note of Caution	383
Summary	383 / Suggested Readings 385

14 ✓ Adjustment 387

Frustration	388
LANDMARK: The Frustration-Aggression Hypothesis	389
Conflict	390
LANDMARK: Conflict—The Push and Pull of Goals	391
Stress	393
LANDMARK: The General Adaptation Syndrome	397
Coping	402
Defense Mechanisms	406
Summary	410 / Suggested Readings 411

15 Abnormal Psychology 413

Behavior Pathology and Abnormality	414
Neuroses	417
Anxiety Reactions	418
LANDMARK: Anxiety, A Danger from Within	420
✓ Obsessive-Compulsive Reactions	423
Phobias	424
LANDMARK: The Classical Conditioning of a Phobia	424
✓ Hysteria	426
Psychoses	428
Paranoid States	429
✓ Schizophrenia	430
LANDMARK: Schizophrenia, A Disorder of the Personality	432

Manic and Depressive Reactions	437
Psychosomatic Disorders	440
Character Disorders	441
Disorders Arising from Damage to the Central Nervous System	444
Summary 445 / Suggested Readings 446

16 Therapies 449

Background and Definition of Psychotherapy	450
Psychotherapists	452
Psychoanalysis	453
LANDMARK: A Break With the Past	456
Therapies Based on Self-Actualization	456
LANDMARK: The Client Knows the Way	458
Directive Therapy	458
Group Therapy	459
Play Therapy	461
Behavior Modification	462
LANDMARK: Counterconditioning as Therapy	464
Other Psychotherapies	470
The Future of Psychotherapies	473
Medically Based Therapies	474
Summary 477 / Suggested Readings 478

17 Social Psychology 481

Social Perception	482
LANDMARK: People Perceiving People	490
Social Influence	493
LANDMARK: Group Pressure and Conformity	498
Attitudes and Attitude Change	501
LANDMARK: Cognitive Dissonance	506
Summary 507 / Suggested Readings 509

Appendix: Measurement and Statistics 511

The Nature of Measurement	512
Descriptive Statistics	514
Statistical Inference	521

Colorplates follow page 110

Bibliography	524
Glossary	543
Name Index	585
Subject Index	591