

THE WORDSWORTH

POETRY LIBRARY

The Works of William Wordsworth

with an Introduction and Bibliography

William Wordsworth

Contents

POEMS WRITTEN IN YOUTH.

Extract from the Conclusion of a Poem, composed in anticipation of leaving School.....	1
Written in very early Youth.....	1
An Evening Walk. Addressed to a Young Lady.....	2
Lines written while sailing in a Boat at Evening.....	9
Remembrance of Collins, composed upon the Thames near Richmond.....	9
Descriptive Sketches taken during a Pedestrian Tour among the Alps.....	10
Lines left upon a Seat in a Yew-tree, which stands near the Lake of Esthwaite, on a desolate part of the Shore, commanding a beautiful Prospect.....	22
Guilt and Sorrow; or, Incidents upon Salisbury Plain.....	23
THE BORDERERS. A Tragedy.....	37

POEMS REFERRING TO THE PERIOD OF CHILDHOOD.

My heart leaps up when I behold.....	79
To a Butterfly.....	79
The Sparrow's Nest.....	79
Foresight.....	79
Characteristics of a Child three Years old..	80
Address to a Child, during a Boisterous Winter Evening.....	80
The Mother's Return.....	81
Alice Fell; or, Poverty.....	82
Lucy Gray; or, Solitude.....	82
We are Seven.....	83
The Idle Shepherd-boys; or, Dungeon-Ghyll Force. A Pastoral.....	84
Anecdote for Fathers.....	85
Rural Architecture.....	86
The Pet-lamb. A Pastoral.....	87
To H. C. Six Years Old.....	88
Influence of Natural Objects in calling forth and strengthening the imagination in Boyhood and early Youth.....	89

The Longest Day. Addressed to my Daughter, Dora.....	90
The Norman Boy.....	91
The Poet's Dream. Sequel to "The Norman Boy".....	91
The Westmoreland Girl—Part I.....	93
Part II.....	93

POEMS FOUNDED ON THE AFFECTIONS.

The Brothers.....	95
Artegall and Eldure.....	100
To a Butterfly.....	106
A Farewell.....	106
Stanzas written in my Pocket-copy of Thomson's "Castle of Indolence".....	107
Louisa. After accompanying her on a Mountain Excursion.....	108
Strange fits of passion have I known.....	109
She dwelt among the untrodden ways.....	109
I travelled among unknown men.....	109
Ere with cold beads of midnight dew.....	109
To.....	110
The Forsaken.....	110
'Tis said that some have died for love.....	110
A Complaint.....	111
To.....	111
Yes! thou art fair, yet be not moved.....	111
How rich that forehead's calm expanse....	112
What heavenly smiles! O Lady mine.....	112
To.....	112
Lament of Mary Queen of Scots on the Eve of a New Year.....	112
The Complaint of a Forsaken Indian Woman.....	113
The Last of the Flock.....	114
Repentance. A Pastoral Ballad.....	116
The Affliction of Margaret.....	116
The Cottager to her Infant.....	117
Maternal Grief.....	118
The Sailor's Mother.....	119
The Childless Father.....	119
The Emigrant Mother.....	120
Vaudracour and Julia.....	121

Contents.

	PAGE		PAGE
The Idiot Boy	136	Stray Pleasures	166
Michael. A Pastoral Poem	137	The Virgin's Dream; of, the Star and the
The Widow on Windermere Side	138	Glow-worm	167
The Armenian Lady's Love	139	The Poet and the Caged Turtle-dove	168
Loving and Liking. Irregular Verses, ad-		A Wren's Nest	169
dressed to a Child	142	Love has Bleeding	169
Farewell Lines	143	Companion to the foregoing	169
The Redbreast. Suggested in a Westmore-		Rural Illusions	170
land Cottage	143	The Kitten and Falling Leaves	170
Her Eyes are Wild	144	Address to my Infant Daughter, Dora, on being reminded that she was a Month old, that Day, September 16	172
		THE WAGGONER.—Canto I.	173
		Canto II.	176
		Canto III.	178
		Canto IV.	180

POEMS ON THE NAMING OF PLACES.

It was an April morning: fresh and clear ..	146
To Joanna	147
There is an Eminence,—of these our hills ..	148
A narrow Girdle of rough stones and crags	148
To M. H.	149
When, to the attractions of the busy world	150
Forth from a jutting ridge, around whose base	151

POEMS OF THE FANCY.

A Morning Exercise	153
A Flower Garden, at Coleorton Hall, Leicestershire	154
A whirl-blast from behind the hill	154
The Waterfall and the Eglantine	155
The Oak and the Broom. A Pastoral	155
To a Sexton	157
To the Daisy	157
To the same Flower	158
The Green Linnet	159
To a Sky-lark	159
To the Small Celandine	160
To the same Flower	160
The Seven Sisters; or, the Solitude of
Binnorie	161
Who fancied what a pretty sight	162
The Redbreast chasing the Butterfly	162
Song for the Spinning Wheel. Founded upon a Belief prevalent among the
Pastoral Vales of Westmoreland	163
Hint from the Mountains for certain Political Pretenders	163
On seeing a Needlecase in the Form of a
Harp	163
To a Lady, in answer to a request that I would write her a Poem upon some Drawings that she had made of Flowers in the Island of Madeira	164
Glad sight wherever new with old	164
The Contrast. The Parrot and the Wren ..	165
The Danish Boy. A Fragment	165
Song for the Wandering Jew	166

POEMS OF THE IMAGINATION.

There was a Boy	183
To the Cuckoo	183
A Night-piece	184
Airey-force Valley	184
Yew-trees	184
Nutting	185
The Simplon Pass	186
She was a Phantom of Delight	186
O Nightingale! thou surely art	186
Three years she grew in sun and shower ..	187
A slumber did my spirit seal	187
I wandered lonely as a cloud	187
The Reverie of Poor Susan	187
Power of Music	188
Star-gazers	189
Written in March, while resting on the
Bridge at the foot of Brother's Water ..	190
Lyre! though such power do in thy magic live	190
Beggars	190
Sequel to the Foregoing, composed many
Years after	191
Gipsies	192
Ruth	192
Resolution and Independence	195
The Thorn	197
Hart-leap Well.—Part I.	200
Part II.	202
Song at the Feast of Brougham Castle, upon the Restoration of Lord Clifford, the Shepherd, to the Estates and Honours of his Ancestors	203
Lines composed a few miles above Tintern
Abbey, on revisiting the Banks of the Wye during a Tour. July 13, 1798	205
It is no Spirit who from heaven hath flown	208
French Revolution, as it appeared to Enthusiasts at its Commencement. Reprinted from "The Friend"	208
Yes, it was the mountain Echo	209

	PAGE		PAGE
To a Sky-lark	209	Orist, thou hast lost an ever ready friend ..	233
Laodamia	209	To B. H.	233
Dion	210	Composed in one of the Valleys of West-
The Pass of Kirkstone	214	moreland, on Easter Sunday	233
To Enterprise	215	Decay of Piety	235
To ———, on her First Ascent to the		Composed on the Eve of the Marriage of a
Summit of Helvellyn	217	Friend in the Vale of Grassmere, 1812 ..	236
To a Young Lady, who had been reproached		From the Italian of Michael Angelo	236
for taking long Walks in the Country ..	218	From the Same	236
Water-fowl	218	From the Same. To the Supreme Being ..	237
View from the Top of Black Comb	218	Surprised by Joy—Impatient as the Wind ..	237
The Haunted Tree. To ———	219	Methought I saw the footsteps of a throne ..	237
The Triad	220	Even so for me a Vision sanctified	238
The Wishing-gate	223	It is a beauteous Evening, calm and free ..	238
The Wishing-gate Destroyed	223	Where lies the Land to which yon Ship
The Primrose of the Rock	224	must go?	238
Presentiments	225	With Ships the sea was sprinkled far and
Vernal Ode	226	nigh	238
Devotional Incitements	228	The world is too much with us; late and
The Cuckoo-Clock	229	soon	239
To the Clouds	229	A volant Tribe of Bards on earth are found ..	239
Suggested by a Picture of the Bird of		"Weak is the will of Man, his judgment
Paradise	231	blind	239
A Jewish Family	231	To the Memory of Raisley Calvert	239
On the Power of Sound	232
PETER BELL—A Tale.—Prologue	236
—— Part First	238
—— Part Second	242
—— Part Third	244

MISCELLANEOUS SONNETS.

PART I.

Dedication. To ———	250
Nuns fret not at their Convent's narrow room	250
Admonition	250
"Beloved Vale!" I said, "when I shall con	250
At Applethwaite, near Keswick	251
Pellon and Ossa flourish side by side	251
There is a little unpretending Rill	251
Her only pilot the soft breeze, the boat	251
The fairest, brightest, hues of ether fade ..	252
Upon the Sight of a Beautiful Picture	252
"Why, Minstrel, these untuneful murnur-ings	252
Aerial Rock—whose solitary brow	253
To Sleep. O gentle Sleep	253
To Sleep. Fond words have oft been spoken ..	253
To Sleep. A flock of sheep that leisurely ..	253
The Wild Duck's Nest	254
Written upon a Blank Leaf in "The Complete Angler"	254
To the Poet, John Dyer	254
On the Detraction which followed the Publication of a certain Poem	254

PART II.
Scorn not the Sonnet; Critic, you have frowned	260
How sweet it is, when mother Fancy rocks	260
To B. R. Haydon	260
From the dark chambers of dejection
freed	260
Fair Prime of life! were it enough to gild ..	261
I watch, and long have watched, with calm regret	261
I heard (alas! 'twas only in a dream)	261
Retirement	261
Not Love, not War, nor the tumultuous swell	262
Mark the concentrated hazels that enclose ..	262
Composed after a Journey across the
Hambleton Hills, Yorkshire	262
Those words were uttered as in pensive mood	263
While not a leaf seems faded; while the fields	263
How clear, how keen, how marvellously
bright	263
Composed during a Storm	263
To a Snowdrop	264
To the Lady Mary Lowther	264
To Lady Beaumont	264
There is a pleasure in poetic pains	265
The Shepherd, looking eastward, softly said	265
When haughty expectations prostrate lie ..	265
Hail, Twilight, sovereign of one peaceful hour	265

Contents.

xii

	PAGE		PAGE
With how sad steps, O Moon, thou climb'st the sky	266	To the Author's Portrait	275
Even as a dragon's eye that feels the stress	266	Why art thou silent! Is thy love a plant ..	276
The stars are mansions built by Nature's hand	266	To B. R. Haydon, on Seeing his Pictures of Napoleon Buonaparte on the Island of St. Helena	277
Desponding Father! mark this altered bough	266	A Poet!—He hath put his heart to school	277
Captivity.—Mary Queen of Scots	267	The most alluring clouds that mount the sky	277
St. Catherine of Loxbury	267	On a Portrait of the Duke of Wellin- ton upon the Field of Waterloo, by Haydon	277
Though narrow be that old Man's cares, and near	267	Composed on a May Morning, 1838	278
Four fiery steeds impatient of the rein	268	Lo! where she stands fixed in a saint-like trance	278
Brook! whose society the Poet seeks	268	To a Painter	278
Composed on the Banks of a Rocky Stream	268	On the same Subject	279
Pure element of waters! wheresoe'er	268	Hark! 'tis the Thrush, undaunted, unde- prest	279
Malham Cove	269	'Tis He whose yester-evening's high dis- dain	279
Gordale	269	Oh what a Wreck! how changed in mien and speech	280
Composed upon Westminster Bridge, Sept. 3, 1802	269	Intent on gathering wool from hedge and brake	280
Conclusion. To —	269	A Plea for Authors	280

PART III.

Though the bold wings of Poesy affect	270	Valedictory Sonnet	280
Ye sacred Nurseries of blooming Youth....	270	To the Rev. Christopher Wordsworth, D.D., Master of Harrow School	281
Shame on this faithless heart! that could allow	270	To the Planet Venus	281
Recollection of the Portrait of King Henry the Eighth, Trinity Lodge, Cambridge..	270	Wansfell! this Household has a favoured lot	281
On the Death of His Majesty (George the Third)	271	While beams of orient light shoot wide and high	282
Fame tells of groves—from England far away	271	In my mind's eye a Temple like a cloud....	282
A Parsonage in Oxfordshire	271	On the projected Kendal and Windermere Railway	282
Composed among the Ruins of a Castle in North Wales	272	Proud were ye, Mountains, when, in times of old	283
To the Lady E. B. and the Hon. Miss P. ..	272	At Furness Abbey. Here, where of havoc tired	283
To the Torrent at the Devil's Bridge, North Wales, 1824	272	At Furness Abbey. Well have yon Railway	283
In the Woods of Rydal	272
When Philoctetes in the Lemnian Isle	273
While Anna's peers and early playmates tread	273
To the Cuckoo	273
To —	274
The Infant M— M—	274
To —, in her Seventieth Year	274
To Rotha Q—	274
A Gravestone upon the Floor in the Cloisters of Worcester Cathedral	275
Roman Antiquities discovered at Bishop- stone, Herefordshire	275
Chatsworth! thy stately mansion, and the pride	275
A Tradition of Oker Hill in Darley Dale, Derbyshire	276
Filial Piety	276

MEMORIALS OF A TOUR IN SCOTLAND, 1803.

Departure from the Vale of Grasmere, August, 1803	284
At the Grave of Burns, 1803. Seven Years after his Death	284
Thoughts suggested the Day following, on the Banks of Nith, near the Poet's Resi- dence	285
To the Sons of Burns, after Visiting the Grave of their Father	286
Ellen Irwin; or, the Braes of Kirtle	287
To a Highland Girl	287
Glen-Almain; or, the Narrow Glen	288
Stepping Westward	289

	PAGE		PAGE
The Solitary Reaper	289	There is a loneliness worse, far worse, to beast	290
Address to Kilburn Castle, upon Loch Awe	290	These things strike muffled workings with slowing	290
Rob Roy's Grave	290	England! the time it comes when thou shouldst ween	291
Sonnet. Composed at ——— Castle	292	When, looking on the present face of things	292
Yarrow Unvisited	292	To the Men of Kent. October, 1805	292
Sonnet. In the Pass of Rullicranky	293	What if our numbers barely could defy	292
The Matron of Jedburgh and her Hus- band	293	Lines on the expected Invasion. 1805	293
Fly, some kind Harbinger, to Grasmere- dale	294	Anticipation. October, 1805	293
The Blind Highland Boy	295	Another year!—another deadly blow	293
		Ode. Who rises on the banks of Selma	294

MEMORIALS OF A TOUR IN SCOTLAND, 1814.

The Brownie's Cell	298
Composed at Cora Linn, in Sight of Wal- lace's Tower	299
Effusion, in the Pleasure-ground on the Banks of the Bran, near Dunkeld	300
Yarrow Visited, September, 1814	301

POEMS DEDICATED TO NATIONAL INDEPENDENCE AND LIBERTY.

PART I.

Composed by the Sea-side, near Calais, August, 1802	303
Is it a reed that's shaken by the wind	303
Composed near Calais, on the Road leading to Ardres, August 7, 1802	304
I grieved for Buonaparté, with a vain	304
Festivals have I seen that were not names	304
On the Extinction of the Venetian Re- public	304
The King of Sweden	305
To Toussaint L'Ouverture	305
We had a female Passenger who came	305
Composed in the Valley near Dover, on the day of landing	306
Inland, within a hollow vale, I stood	306
Thought of a Briton on the Subjugation of Switzerland	306
Written in London, September, 1802	306
Milton! thou shouldst be living at this hour	307
Great men have been among us; hands that penned	307
It is not to be thought of that the Flood ..	307
When I have borne in memory what has tamed	307
One might believe that natural miseries....	308

PART II.

On a celebrated Event in Ancient History ..	312
Upon the same Event	312
To Thomas Clarkson, on the Final Passing of the Bill for the Abolition of the Slave Trade	312
A Prophecy. February, 1807	313
Composed by the Side of Grasmere Lake ..	313
Go back to antique ages, if thine eyes	313
Composed while the Author was engaged in Writing a Tract, occasioned by the Convention of Cintra	313
Composed at the same Time and on the same Occasion	314
Hofer	314
Advance—come forth from thy Tyrolean ground	314
Feelings of the Tyrolese	315
Alas! what boots the long laborious quest..	315
And is it among rude untutored Dales	315
O'er the wide earth, on mountain and on plain	315
On the Final Submission of the Tyrolese ..	316
Hail, Zaragoza! If with unwet eye	316
Say, what is Honour?—'Tis the finest sense	316
The martial courage of a day is vain	316
Brave Schill! by death delivered, take thy flight	317
Call not the royal Swede unfortunate	317
Look now on that Adventurer who hath paid	317
Is there a power that can sustain and cheer	318
Ah! where is Palafox? Nor tongue nor pen	318
In due observance of an ancient rite	318
Feelings of a Noble Biscayan at one of those Funerals	318
The Oak of Guernica	319
Indignation of a high-minded Spaniard....	319
Avaunt all specious pliancy of mind	319
O'erweening Statesmen have full long relled	320

Contents.

xiv
	Page		Page
The French and the Spanish Guerrillas	300	Fort Fuentes	340
Spanish Guerrillas	300	The Church of San Salvador. Seen from the	340
The power of Armes is a visible thing	301	Lake of Lugano	341
Here pause: the poet claims at least this	301	The Italian Itinerary, and the Swiss Coast.	341
praise	301	Part I.	341
The French Army in Russia	302	Part II.	341
On the same Occasion	302	The Last Supper, by Leonardo da Vinci, in	341
By Moscow self devoted to a blaze	302	the Refectory of the Convent of Maria	341
The Germans on the Heights of Hochheim	302	della Grazia—Milan	341
Now that all hearts are glad, all faces	303	The Eclipse of the Sun, 1829	341
bright	303	The Three Cottage Girls	341
Ode. 1814.—When the soft hand of sleep had	303	The Column intended by Buonaparte for a	341
closed the latch	303	Triumphal Edifice in Milan, now lying	341
Feelings of a French Royalist, on the Disin-	303	by the way-side in the Simplon Pass	341
terment of the Remains of the Duke	303	Stanzas, composed in the Simplon Pass	341
d'Enghien	325	Echo, upon the Gemmi	341
Occasioned by the Battle of Waterloo	325	Processions. Suggested on a Sabbath	341
Siege of Vienna raised by John Sobieski	326	Morning in the Vale of Chamouny	341
Occasioned by the Battle of Waterloo	326	Elegiac Stanzas	341
Emperors and Kings, how oft have temples	326	Sky-prospect—From the Plain of France	341
rung	326	On being Stranded near the Harbour of	341
Ode. 1815.—Imagination—ne'er before con-	327	Boulogne	341
stant	327	After landing—the Valley of Dover	341
Ode.—The Morning of the Day appointed for	329	At Dover	341
a General Thanksgiving. January 18,	329	Desultory Stanzas	350
1816	329

MEMORIALS OF A TOUR ON THE CONTINENT, 1820.

Dedication	333
Fish-women.—On landing at Calais	333
Brugès. Brugès I saw attired with golden light	333
Brugès. The Spirit of Antiquity—enshrined	334
Incident at Brugès	334
After Visiting the Field of Waterloo	334
Between Namur and Liege	335
Aix-la-Chapelle	335
In the Cathedral at Cologne	335
In a Carriage, upon the Banks of the Rhine	335
Hymn, for the Boatmen, as they approach	336
the Rapids under the Castle of Heidel-	336
berg	336
The Source of the Danube	336
On approaching the Staub-bach, Lauter-	336
brunnen	336
The Fall of the Aar—Handec	336
Memorial, near the Outlet of the Lake of	337
Thun	337
Composed in One of the Catholic Cantons	337
After-thought	337
Scene on the Lake of Brienz	338
Engelberg, the Hill of Angels	338
Our Lady of the Snow	338
Effusion, in Presence of the Painted Tower	339
of Tell, at Altorf	339
The Town of Schwytz	339
On hearing the "Ranz des Vaches" on the	339
Top of the Pass of St. Gothard	339

MEMORIALS OF A TOUR IN ITALY, 1837.

To H. C. Robinson	352
Musings near Aquapendente	352
The Pine of Monte Mario at Rome	358
At Rome	358
At Rome.—Regrets.—In allusion to Niebuhr	359
and other modern Historians	359
Continued	359
Plea for the Historian	359
At Rome	359
Near Rome, in sight of St. Peter's	360
At Albano	360
Near Anio's stream I spied a gentle Dove	360
From the Alban Hills, looking towards	360
Rome	360
Near the Lake of Thrasymene	361
Near the same Lake	361
The Cuckoo at Laverna	361
At the Convent of Camaldoli	363
Continued	363
At the Eremita or Upper Convent of	363
Camaldoli	364
At Vallombrosa	365
At Florence	365
Before the Picture of the Baptist, by	365
Raphael, in the Gallery at Florence	365
At Florence.—From Michael Angelo	365
At Florence.—From Michael Angelo	366
Among the Ruins of a Convent in the	366
Apennines	366

To Lanchester
After leaving this
Composed in 1841 on May Morning, 1841
The Father in Heaven
The Englishman, 1841, and the Duke of Devon
The Water Fall

THE RIVER DUDDON. A SERIES OF SONNETS.

To the Rev. Dr. Wordsworth	375
Not envying Italian shades—If yet they throw	375
Child of the clouds! remote from every taut	375
How shall I paint thee?—Be this naked stone	375
Take, cradled Nursling of the mountain, take	377
Sole listener, Duddon! to the breeze that played	377
Flowers	377
"Change me, some God, into that breathing rose!"	377
What aspect bore the Man who roved or fled	378
The Stepping-stones	378
The same Subject	378
The Faery Chasm	378
Hints for the Fancy	379
Open Prospect	379
O mountain Stream! the Shepherd and his Cot	379
From this deep chasm, where quivering sunbeams play	379
American Tradition	380
Return	380
Seathwaite Chapel	380
Tributary Stream	380
The Plain of Donnerdale	381
Whence that low voice?—A whisper from the heart	381
Tradition	381
Sheep-washing	381
The Resting-place	382
Methinks 'twere no unprecedented feat	382
Return, Content! for fondly I pursued	382
Fallen, and diffused into a shapeless heap..	382
Journey renewed	383
No record tells of lance opposed to lance ..	383
Who swerves from innocence, who makes divorce	383
The KIRK OF ULPHA to the pilgrim's eye....	383
Not hurled precipitous from steep to steep	384
Conclusion	384
After-thought	384

THE WHITE DOE OF RYLSTONE;
OR, THE FATE OF THE NORTONS.
Composed after a sketch, during a Tour in Yorkshire, and in the English Museum, in the Autumn of 1841.

The patient Truth, who dare not palliate On the fragments of the Water House House Edinburgh, the English	384
A Place of Death in the death of death land	384
On the flight of a Mouse in the death of Scotland	384
Composed in the Chapel, during a storm The Transcend	384
The pilgrim's note, discomfited of note	384
Composed in the Glen of Loch Ewe	384
Eagles, Composed at Tranter's Castle in the Bay of Oban	384
In the Sound of Mull	384
Suggested at Tyndrum in a Storm	384
The Earl of Breadalbane's Ruined Mansion, and Family Burial-place, near Killin ..	384
"Rest and be Thankful!" At the Head of Glencroe	384
Highland Hut	384
The Highland Brooch	384
The Brownie	384
To the Planet Venus, an Evening Star. Composed at Loch Lomond	391
Bothwell Castle. Passed unseen, on account of stormy Weather	392
Picture of Daniel in the Lions' Den, at Hamilton Palace	392
The Avon. A Feeder of the Annan	392
Suggested by a View from an Eminence in Inglewood Forest	392
Hart's-horn Tree, near Penrith	393
Fancy and Tradition	393
Countess' Pillar	393
Roman Antiquities. From the Roman Station at Old Penrith	394
Apology, for the foregoing Poems	394

THE WHITE DOE OF RYLSTONE; OR, THE FATE OF THE NORTONS.

Dedication	395
— Canto I	396
— Canto II	400
— Canto III	402
— Canto IV	406
— Canto V	409
— Canto VI	411
— Canto VII	413

Contents.

xvi

ECCLESIASTICAL SONNETS.

PART I.

FROM THE INTRODUCTION OF CHRISTIANITY
INTO BRITAIN, TO THE CONSUMMATION OF THE PAPAL DOMINION.

Introduction.....	418
Conjectures.....	419
Trepidation of the Druids.....	419
Druidical Excommunication.....	419
Uncertainty.....	419
Persecution.....	420
Recovery.....	420
Temptations from Roman Refinements.....	420
Disensions.....	421
Struggle of the Britons against the Bar- barians.....	421
Saxon Conquest.....	421
Monastery of Old Bangor.....	421
Casual Incitement.....	422
Glad Tidings.....	422
Paulinus.....	422
Persuasion.....	422
Conversion.....	423
Apology.....	423
Primitive Saxon Clergy.....	423
Other Influences.....	423
Seclusion.....	424
Continued.....	424
Reproof.....	424
Saxon Monasteries, and Lights and Shades of the Religion.....	424
Missions and Travels.....	425
Alfred.....	425
His Descendants.....	425
Influence Abused.....	425
Danish Conquests.....	426
Canute.....	426
The Norman Conquest.....	426
Coldly we spake. The Saxons, overpowered.....	426
The Council of Clermont.....	427
Crusades.....	427
Richard I.....	427
An Interdict.....	428
Papal Abuses.....	428
Scene in Venice.....	428
Papal Dominion.....	428

PART II.

TO THE CLOSE OF THE TROUBLES IN THE REIGN OF CHARLES I.

How soon—alas! did Man, created pure.....	428
From false assumption rose, and fondly hailed.....	429
Cistercian Monastery.....	429
Deplorable his lot who tills the ground.....	429
Monks and Schoolmen.....	429

Other Benefits.....	429
Continued.....	429
Crusades.....	429
As with them mounted the warrior's crest.....	429
Where long and deeply hath been fixed the foot.....	429
Transubstantiation.....	429
The Vandals.....	429
Praised be the Rivers, from their mountain springs.....	429
Waldenses.....	429
Archbishop Chicheley to Henry V.....	429
Wars of York and Lancaster.....	429
Wicliffe.....	429
Corruptions of the higher Clergy.....	429
Abuse of Monastic Power.....	429
Monastic Voluptuousness.....	429
Dissolution of the Monasteries.....	429
The same Subject.....	429
Continued.....	429
Saints.....	429
The Virgin.....	429
Apology.....	429
Imaginative Regrets.....	429
Reflections.....	429
Translation of the Bible.....	429
The Point at issue.....	429
Edward VI.....	429
Edward signing the Warrant for the Execu- tion of Joan of Kent.....	429
Revival of Popery.....	429
Latimer and Ridley.....	429
Cranmer.....	429
General View of the Troubles of the Refor- mation.....	429
English Reformers in Exile.....	429
Elizabeth.....	429
Eminent Reformers.....	429
The Same.....	429
Distractions.....	429
Gunpowder Plot.....	429
Illustration. The Jung-Frau and the Fall of the Rhine near Schaffhausen.....	429
Troubles of Charles the First.....	429
Laud.....	429
Afflictions of England.....	429

PART III.

FROM THE RESTORATION TO THE PRESENT
TIMES.

I saw the figure of a lovely Maid.....	440
Patriotic Sympathies.....	440
Charles the Second.....	441
Latitudinarianism.....	441
Walton's Book of Lives.....	441
Clerical Integrity.....	441
Persecution of the Scottish Covenanters ..	441
Acquittal of the Bishops.....	442

Contents.

	PAGE		PAGE
Cave of Staffa	473	A Fact, and an Imagination; or, Canute and Alfred, on the Sea-shore	473
Flowers on the Top of the Pillars at the Entrance of the Cave	474	A little onward lend thy guiding hand	473
Iona	474	Ode to Lycoris	474
Iona. Upon Landing	474	To the same	474
The Black Stones of Iona	474	The sylvan slopes with corn-clad fields	474
Homeward we turn. Isle of Columba's Cell	475	Upon the same Occasion	474
Greenock	475	Memory	474
"There!" said a Strippling, pointing with meet pride	475	This Lawn, a carpet all alive	474
The River Eden, Cumberland	475	Humanity	474
Monument of Mrs. Howard (by Nollekens), in Wetheral Church, near Corby, on the Banks of the Eden	476	The unremitting voice of nightly streams ..	474
Suggested by the foregoing	476	Thoughts on the Seasons	474
Nunnery	476	To —, upon the Birth of her First-born Child, March, 1833	474
Steamboats, Viaducts, and Railways	477	The Warning. A Sequel to the foregoing ..	474
The Monument commonly called Long Meg and her Daughters, near the River Eden	477	If this great world of joy and pain	474
Lowther	477	The Labourer's Noon-day Hymn	474
To the Earl of Lonsdale	477	Ode, composed on May Morning	474
The Somnambulist	478	To May	474
To Cordelia M——, Hallsteads, Ullswater ..	480	Lines suggested by a Portrait from the Pencil of F. Stone	474
Most sweet it is with unuplifted eyes	480	The foregoing Subject resumed	474
		So fair, so sweet, withal so sensitive	474
		Upon seeing a coloured Drawing of the Bird of Paradise in an Album	474

POEMS OF SENTIMENT AND REFLECTION.

Expostulation and Reply	481
The Tables Turned. An Evening Scene on the same Subject	481
Lines written in Early Spring	482
A Character	482
To my Sister	482
Simon Lee, the old Huntsman; with an Incident in which he was concerned ..	483
Written in Germany, on one of the coldest days of the Century	484
A Poet's Epitaph	485
To the Daisy	485
Matthew	486
The two April Mornings	486
The Fountain. A Conversation	487
Personal Talk	488
Illustrated Books and Newspapers	489
To the Spade of a Friend (an Agriculturist). Composed while we were labouring together in his Pleasure-ground	489
A Night Thought	490
Incident characteristic of a favourite Dog	490
Tribute to the Memory of the same Dog ..	490
Fidelity	491
Ode to Duty	492
Character of the Happy Warrior	493
The Force of Prayer; or, the Founding of Bolton Priory. A Tradition	494

SONNETS DEDICATED TO LIBERTY AND ORDER.

Composed after reading a Newspaper of the Day	513
Upon the late General Fast. March, 1832 ..	513
Said Secrecy to Cowardice and Fraud	513
Blest Statesman He, whose Mind's unselfish will	514
In allusion to various recent Histories and Notices of the French Revolution	514
Continued	514
Concluded	514
Men of the Western World! in Fate's dark book	515
To the Pennsylvanians	515
At Bologna, in Remembrance of the late Insurrections, 1837	515
Continued	515
Concluded	516
Young England—what is then become of Old	516
Feel for the wrongs to universal ken	516

SONNETS UPON THE PUNISHMENT OF DEATH.

Suggested by the View of Lancaster Castle (on the Road from the South)	517
Tenderly do we feel by Nature's law	517
The Roman Consul doomed his sons to die	517

In Death, when evil against good has fought	515
Run to the object specially designed	515
To brood of Conscience—Anthem! that repeated	516
Before the world had passed his time of youth	516
Fit retribution, by the moral code	516
Though to give timely warning and deter	516
Our bodily life, some plead, that life the shrine	516
Ah, think how one compelled for life to abide	516
See the condemned alone within his cell ..	516
Conclusion	520
Apology	520

MISCELLANEOUS POEMS.

Epistle to Sir George Howland Beaumont, Bart. From the South-west Coast of Cumberland.—1811	521
Upon perusing the foregoing Epistle thirty Years after its Composition	525
Gold and Silver Fishes in a Vase	526
Liberty. (Sequel to the above.) [Addressed to a Friend; the Gold and Silver Fishes having been removed to a Pool in the Pleasure-ground of Rydal Mount.]	527
Poor Robin	529
The Gleaner. Suggested by a Picture	530
To a Redbreast—(In Sickness)	530
I know an aged Man constrained to dwell ..	530
Sonnet. To an Octogenarian	531
Floating Island	531
How beautiful the Queen of Night, on high	532
Once I could hail (howe'er serene the sky)	532
To the Lady Fleming, on seeing the Foun- dation preparing for the Erection of Rydal Chapel, Westmoreland	533
On the same Occasion	534
The Horn of Egremont Castle	535
Goody Blake and Harry Gill. A true Story	536
Preface, prefixed to the Volume entitled "Poems chiefly of Early and Late Years"	537
By a Child. Written in her Album	538
Poems written in the Album of the Countess of Lonsdale	538
My Darling	540
The Russian Fugitive.—Part I.	541
Part II.	542
Part III.	543
Part IV.	544

INSCRIPTIONS.

In the Cemetery of Cumbria, the Seat of Sir George Beaumont, Bart. Librarian of the	545
In a Garden of the same	545
Written at the Request of Sir George Beaumont, Bart. And to his Son, for an Urn placed by him at the Foundation of a newly planted Avenue, in the same Grounds	546
For a Seat in the Cemetery of Cumbria	547
Written with a Pencil upon a Stone in the Wall of the House (an Out-house), on the Island at Grasmere	547
Written with a Slate Pencil on a Stone, on the Side of the Mountain of Black Comb	548
Written with a Slate Pencil upon a Stone, the largest of a Heap lying near a deserted Quarry, upon one of the Islands at Rydal	548
In these fair vales bath many a Tree	549
The massy Ways, carried across these heights	549
Inscriptions supposed to be found in and near a Hermit's Cell— I.—Hopes what are they?—Beads of morning	549
II.—Pause, Traveller! whoso'er thou be	550
III.—Hast thou seen with flash incessant	550
IV.—Near the Spring of the Her- mitage	550
V.—Not seldom, clad in radiant vest	550
For the Spot where the Hermitage stood on St. Herbert's Island, Derwent-water	551
On the Banks of a Rocky Stream	551

SELECTIONS FROM CHAUCER MODERNISED.

The Prioress' Tale	552
The Cuckoo and the Nightingale	556
Troilus and Cresida	562

POEMS REFERRING TO THE PERIOD OF OLD AGE.

The Old Cumberland Beggar	566
The Farmer of Tilsbury Vale	569
The Small Celandine	571
The Two Thieves; or, the Last Stage of Avarice	571
Animal Tranquillity and Decay	572

EPITAPHS AND ELEGIAC PIECES.

Epitaphs translated from Chivalry—
Weep not, beloved Friends! nor let	573
the air.....
Perhaps some needful service of the	573
State.....
O Thou who moved onward with a	573
mind.....
There never breathed a man who,	574
when his life.....
True is it that Ambrosio Salinero....	574
Destined to war from very infancy ..	575
O flower of all that springs from gentle blood.....	575
Not without heavy grief of heart
did He.....	575
Pause, courteous Spirit!—Balbi sup-
plicates.....	575
By a blest Husband guided, Mary came....	576
Six months to six years added he remained.....	576
Cenotaph.....	576
Epitaph in the Chapel-yard of Langdale,
Westmoreland.....	577
Address to the Scholars of the Village
School of —.....	577
Elegiac Stanzas, suggested by a Picture of Peele Castle, in a Storm, painted by
Sir George Beaumont.....	578
To the Daisy.....	579
Elegiac Verses, in Memory of my Brother,
John Wordsworth, Commander of the E. I. Company's Ship, the Earl of Abergavenny, in which he perished by Calamitous Shipwreck, Feb. 6, 1805.....	580
Sonnet.....	581
Lines composed at Grasmere, during a Walk one Evening, after a stormy Day, the Author having just read in a Newspaper that the Dissolution of Mr. Fox was hourly expected.....	581
Invocation to the Earth. February, 1816 ..	581
Lines written on a Blank Leaf in a copy of the Author's Poem "The Excursion," upon hearing of the Death of the late
Vicar of Kendal.....	582
Elegiac Stanzas. Addressed to Sir G. H. B.
upon the Death of his Sister-in-Law....	582
Elegiac Musings in the Grounds of Cole-orton Hall, the Seat of the late Sir. G. H.
Beaumont, Bart.....	583
Written after the Death of Charles Lamb..	584
Extempore Effusion upon the Death of
James Hogg.....	586
Inscription for a Monument in Crosthwaite
Church, in the Vale of Keswick.....	587
ODE. INTIMATIONS OF IMMORTALITY FROM
RECOLLECTIONS OF EARLY CHILDHOOD ..	587

APPENDIX: POEMS OF 1793.

An Evening Walk

Descriptive Sketches

—44—

SUPPLEMENT OF PIECES NOT
APPEARING IN THE EDITION
OF 1849-50.

Lines written as a School Exercise at
Hawkshead.....	621
Sonnet, on seeing Miss Helen Maria Williams
weep at a tale of Distress.....	621
The Birth of Love. From the French.....	622
The Convict.....	622
Andrew Jones.....	622
"On Nature's Invitation do I come"
"Bleak Season was it, turbulent and wild"
"Among all lovely things my Love had been".....	622
Sonnet. "I find it written of Simonides"
George and Sarah Green.....	623
Translation of part of the First Book of the Æneid.....	623
Sonnet. Author's Voyage down the Rhine.
A Cento made by Wordsworth.....	623
Inscription on a Rock at Rydal Mount....	625
Protest against the Ballot.....	625
A Poet to his Grandchild. Sequel to "A Plea for Authors".....	626
On a Portrait of I. F. [Isabella Fenwick], painted by Margaret Gillies.....	627
To I. F. "The star which comes at close of day to shine".....	627
"When Severn's sweeping Flood had overthrown".....	627
The Eagle and the Dove.....	627
Lines inscribed in a Copy of his Poems sent to the Queen.....	628
Ode on the Installation of His Royal Highness Prince Albert as Chancellor of the University of Cambridge.....	628
Quinzain. Written in a Grotto.....	629
"With how sad steps" (original version) ..	630

—44—

THE PRELUDE,

OR, GROWTH OF A POET'S MIND.

Advertisement. [By the Editor of 1850.] ..	631
Book I.—Introduction—Childhood and
School-time.....	632
II.—School-time (Continued).....	642
III.—Residence at Cambridge.....	649
IV.—Summer Vacation.....	658
V.—Books.....	665
VI.—Cambridge and the Alps.....	675

Contents.

xxi

	PAGE		PAGE
THE PRELUDE (cont.).		THE EXCURSION.
Book VII.—Residence in London	687	Dedication	753
VIII.—Retrospect.—Love of Nature leading to Love of Man.....	699	Preface to the Edition of 1814	754
IX.—Residence in France	709	Book I.—The Wanderer	756
X.—Residence in France (Continued)	718	II.—The Solitary	771
XI.—France (Concluded)	727	III.—Despondency	786
XII.—Imagination and Taste, how Im- paired and Restored	734	IV.—Despondency Corrected	801
XIII.—Imagination and Taste, how Im- paired and Restored (Con- cluded)	740	V.—The Pastor	822
XIV.—Conclusion.....	746	VI.—The Churchyard among the Mountains.....	838
		Book VII.—The Churchyard among the Mountains (Continued)	857
		VIII.—The Parsonage.....	874
		IX.—Discourse of the Wanderer, and an Evening Visit to the Lake	884